Coming Assembly Welcomes Freshmen

Wednesday's assembly will feature the annual Old Student-New Student Ceremony with the freshmen being dressed in white. This is the day in which the freshmen officially become part of the Student body. Throughout the program the Glee Club will render some special selections under the direction of Miss Edna T. Shaeffer. The processional will be "Pledge To The Flag", by Malotte. Also included in the assembly will be selected numbers by the Orchestra. The highlight of the program is the capping and pinning of the freshmen by their sister class, the juniors.

Speakers at the assembly will be Johnny Lou Thompson, Susie Roberts, and Eugene Crider. The climax of the day's events is the banquet in the evening.

Notice

Presidents or leaders of all groups planning to take trips of any kind are reminded that a list of those expecting to go should be brought to the Dean of Women's Office at least one day before the trip so that Permission Cards may be checked.

Talks Given At Meeting

Presided over by the president, Miss Edna Frady, the first meeting of FBLA was held on Thursday, October 8.

After the business meeting was adjourned, Miss Frady turned the meeting over to Dr. S. J. Turille, Head of the Department of Business Education. Dr. Turille discussed each of the three business clubs on campus and described how each has a specific function.

Miss Marguerite Crumley, who was guest speaker at the meeting, is the assistant state supervisor in Business Education, State Department of Education at Richmond, Virginia. Miss Crumley's topic for discussion was "What Can A College FBLA Chapter Do?"

Miss Louise Moses, head of the Department of Business Education, Granby High School, Norfolk, Virginia, was a guest at the meeting also. Miss Moses has received the Ford Foundation Scholarship and is studying business education in Virginia and throughout the United States during a leave of absence. While on the campus, she spent a day visiting classes in the Department of Business Education.

Refreshments were served following a question and answer period by a committee composed of Miss Eleanor Wood, Miss Carolyn Pugh, and Miss Lola Jones.

FBLA extends an invitation of membership to all freshmen and transfer students in the Business Curricula. Any student wishing to join FBLA should contact Miss Sara Anderson, assistant professor of Business Education and sponsor of the chapter, or Miss Edna Frady.

Dr. G. Gildersleeve Attends Congress

Dr. Glenn Gildersleeve has just returned from attending the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers which was held in Bristol October 19th through the 21st. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Parents Teachers Congress and is also state chairman of music activities.

One of the special projects being developed this year is the presentation of a series of opera broadcasts over a number of local stations. These programs which were developed by the Community Radio Council of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, have proven themselves very outstanding musical experiences in schools and communities where they have been used.

Dwight E. Miller Is Stationed In Japan

Iwakuni, Japan — (FHTNC) — Navy Ens. Dwight E. Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Miller of 1340 South Main St., Harrisonburg, Va., is serving as assistant Communications Officer with Patrol Squadron 50 based at the Naval Air Facility here. He is the husband of the former Miss Betsy Shank, daughter of Mrs. M. R. Shank of 412 South Main St., Harrisonburg. He attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Madison College.

Walker Cops Election Vote

Wednesday, October 20, elections were held in all but the Freshman dorms to elect a new handbook editor for the 1953-54 session.

This election was necessary because of Lou Jefferson's, who was the previously elected editor, failure to return.

Our new handbook editor is Miss Shirley Walker, a senior from Marshall, Virginia. Shirley is a business major, president of Pi Omega Pi, and a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Maid of Cotton Winner Receives Ford Convertible

Memphis, Tenn. — (Special) — A new, 1954 Ford convertible will await the 1954 Maid of Cotton on completion of her glamorous, international fashion and goodwill tour for the U. S. cotton industry, the National Cotton Council has announced.

The Memphis (Tenn.) District Ford Dealers will present the car to the young cotton representative to point up the close working relationship between the cotton and automobile industries, Judge J. C. Johnson, West Memphis, Ark., spokesman for the dealers group, has revealed.

The automobile industry, one of cotton's largest consumers, uses nearly a half million bales annually.

A certificate of presentation will be awarded to the 1954 Maid of Cotton on January 6 at Ellis Auditorium immediately after her selection as the cotton industry's new "ambassadors." The Ford convertible itself will be presented to the Maid next summer when she returns from her 65,000 mile, trans-continental journey in behalf of cotton.

Any girl born in a cotton state who is between the ages of 19-25, has never been married, and is at least 5 feet 5 inches tall is eligible to become Maid of Cotton. Information about the contest and entry forms are available from the National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis, Tenn. Deadline for contestants is midnight, December 1. All entries must be postmarked before that date.

Contestants will be judged on the basis of personality, poise, intelligence, and background, as well as appearance. The competition is not a beauty contest in the usual sense of the word, the Cotton Council emphasizes.

The 1954 Maid of Cotton will be the sixteenth to make the exciting tour for King Cotton. Since 1947, annual presentation of a new car by the Memphis District Ford Dealers has paid tribute to the young traveler's service in behalf of the 13 million members of the cotton industry.

Sponsors of the Maid of Cotton are the National Cotton Council, the Memphis Cotton Carnival Association, and the Cotton Exchanges of New York, Memphis, and New Orleans.

Dean of Women Asks For Dates

Will the president of any organization which plans to have a dance in the gymnasium bring to Mrs. Wilkins's office at once the date of the dance? Dr. Sinclair says that dances requiring elaborate decorations should, if feasible, be scheduled before November 15 and after March 15 because the gymnasium is used less in fall and spring. It will be helpful to Dr. Sinclair and to Dean Wilkins if they have now the dates of all major dances to be held during the year.

S. Barnett Will Preside Over Freshman Class

Kappa Delta Pi Honoring Thirty

Kappa Delta Pi, the national honor society in education, honored thirty junior and senior education majors in Monday assembly by inviting them to become members of Alpha Chi chapter here at Madison College. Only those students who excel in both scholarship and leadership are members of this organization.

The seniors that were bestowed with this honor were Nancy Ellen Garber, Marilyn Anne Hubbard, Lillian Eleanor Meek, Aileen Dickerson, Natalie Zirkle, Joan Kathleen Thompson, and Joanne Lea Jonas.

The following juniors were also honored: Janet Lee Dygert, Roger E. Padgett, Marie Byers Pankey, Joyce Lee Wood, Vivian Marie Allston, Ruth Elsa Goewey, Leola Jean Hogge, Mrs. Mary Va. Kotz, Peggy Ann Phalen, Frances Arlene Aills, Margaret Ann Davis, Julia Lee Freeman, Janet Belle Heiner, June Eleanor Simmons, Miriam Allen Bowman, Mary Jane Guyton, Ann Olivia Henderson, Norma Leaford Proctor, Betty Lou Smith, Joyce Ann Gwaltney, Peggy Farmer, Anne Gail Thacker, and Ethel Jane Warren.

The local chapter has announced its program topic for the coming year—What is Expected of the Teacher. The opening speaker was Mr. Wilbur Pence, superintendent of Rockingham public schools, who told the members what the superintendent looked for in a prospective teacher. He gave particular stress to the need for interested, well-informed teachers. He also pointed out that there would be a need for fifty teachers in the Rockingham school system.

L. Watkins To Give Piano Demonstration

Lowell Watkins of the music staff has been invited to give a class piano demonstration before piano teachers of the Virginia Music Education Association at Hotel Thomas Jefferson on Friday, October 30th. A group of fourth grade youngsters has been provided for the demonstration. Mr. Volney Shepard, director of R. P. I. School of Music, is in charge.

On October 13, 15 and 16, the Freshman Class elected the following officers to lead them for the year:

Shirley Barnett, president, is an English major in Curriculum Y and hails from Richmond, Virginia. Barbara Osborne, secretary, is from Norfolk, Nebraska. Her major is home economics.

Betty Fentress and Beverley Belt have been chosen vice-president and treasurer, respectively. Betty lives in Fentress, Virginia and Beverley in Charlottesville. Both are in Elementary Education.

Drucilla Turner, elected sergeant-at-arms, will study dietetics. She is from Martinsville, Virginia. Kathy Sprague, reporter, is a history major in Curriculum 11. Her home is in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Students Present Music Recital

Attention

Ushers will require lyceum tickets from all persons attending movie tomorrow night. Those who have not obtained them please do so at once at the Business Manager's Office.

Let's Practice Safety First

Safety may be defined as freedom from danger or hazard, and this is precisely why the sidewalks were constructed. The sidewalks that are being discussed are the ones in front of Reed, Wilson, and Maury which are seldom if at all used!! This isn't good at all for if the state had known we wouldn't use them they wouldn't have given them to us and then we would be griping because we didn't have them and the other state schools did. It wasn't too long ago that we didn't have them and when, at last, we did, look what we do—look at them and that is all.

True, no one has been hit by a car—yet, but there is a first time for everything! And the consequences if this did happen would be terrible. So let's look ahead and prevent accidents before they happen!

Everyone knows how the cars come speeding down the streets at times even though it is a speed zone. The only way to remedy this situation is through the students so take heed and please use the campus sidewalks!

Journalism In Our Colleges

With the smoke and dirt of Chicago finally off of us, we can sit down and analyse the Associated Collegiate Press Conference at the Morrison Hotel. It was well worth the time and trouble it took to get there. As at all meetings of that type, there were some very fine opinions aired and then there were some that were not so fine.

The sessions opened with a welcome and talk on "Journalism in Our Colleges" by Dean Olsen of the Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern University. Various sectional meetings followed, dealing with the different phases of college journalism. The discussions that followed the lectures were very revealing. It seems that Madison is one of the very few colleges in the nation that has absolute freedom of the press. Very few of the Universities and hardly any of the colleges or junior colleges have as much freedom as we do. The majority have a Board of Publications whose job it is to make all major decisions in regard to policy and material printed. If no Board of Publications is in operation, the faculty advisor is responsible for the decisions. We have no conception how lucky we are. Ours is a paper for the students, by the students and of the students alone. This is a privilege we have had for many years and which we hope to have for many more.

N. D.

We Don't Know Anything

"I'd like to be an editor," said Mr. Dooley.

"It must be a hard job" said Mr. Hennessy.

"'Tis a hard job," said Mr. Dooley, "but 'tis a fascinatin' wan. They're nawthin' so hard a mindin' your own business an' an editor niver has to do that. He's like myself. I'm sick iv th' perpetchool round iv examin' the beer pump and counting up the receipts. I want to put on me hat an' go out an' take a peck at th' neighborhood."

"I hat to think whin a great editor has settled th' currency question an' th' strikes an' partitioned off China an' handed instructions to th' crowned heads iv Europe an' told th' ladies what kind iv a hat to wear with a lavender skirt, he has to home to his wife an' confess that he forgot th' baby's carriage. I think I wudden't like to be an editor afther all. I sometimes wondher they don't come out with a line printed acrost th' first page, 'We don't know annything about it an' we don't care, an' what business iv ye'ers is it anyhow?'"

Have You Read . . . ?

contributed by Ex Libris Club

Some are reading and some are not but these were summer readings for Ex Libris Club members. Some are old and some are new; you may like them. Watch for some of the choices of the critics in later issues.

Costain, Thomas. The Silver Chalice. Doubleday, 1952.

This outstanding historical novel is based on legends which grew out of the years following the crucifixion of Christ. A central figure is Basil, an artisan who, though the adopted son of a rich merchant, was sold into slavery by a greedy relative when the merchant died. Basil was chosen to make the chalice, which was to hold the cup from which Christ and his disciples drank at the Last Supper. There is love, intrigue, and spiritual insight in this book which makes the New Testament real.

Douglas, Lloyd. The Robe. Houghton, 1942.

The three dimensional movie, The Robe, recently released, has renewed interest in the book. This book and the author's Big Fisherman are among his most successful books. Here he has swept our hearts and occupied our minds with the religious atmosphere of Christ's time. The story centers around the seamless robe made for Christ by Mary Magdalene. Our feeling is against the uncouth Roman soldiers as they cast lots for the Master's garments. The book makes the reader feel the reality of Christ.

DuMaurier, Daphne. My Cousin Rachel. Doubleday, 1952.

A completely absorbing book about a woman who cast her spell over two men. One, Ambrose, a rich, middle aged bachelor who married her hoping to find the love of his life in her. After Ambrose died, the cause being in grave doubt, Philip, the other man, invited Rachel to live in the home which he had inherited from Ambrose. Philip was the nephew of Ambrose and he thought that there should have been a new will after Ambrose married his distant cousin, Rachel. Philip fell in love with Rachel in spite of doubts which grew greater the longer she was there. The end of the story leaves the reader as much in doubt as did the author's Rebecca. The unsolved question is whether Rachel is good or evil.

Paul, Charlotte. Gold Mountain. Random House, 1953.

Katherine Duncan was inexperienced and far from confident when she arrived to take her first teaching position in the Snowy Mountain Valley. The attitude of her powerful and wealthy employer, Nils Bengtson created real difficulties. The hardships and unexpected events of frontier life brought the two together and Katherine had a great decision to make when Nils offered her a dazzling future.

This book holds the romantic story and adventures of a young school teacher who met the challenges of the frontier with courage, spirit and success.

Flaming Flicks---

Beginning Saturday, October 24th at the Virginia Theater is "Blowing Wild", a dramatic adventure story of life in the oil fields. 1952 Academy Award winner, Gary Cooper leads the cast as a wildcatter oilman who has to contend with Mexican bandits as well as black gold in the picture. Anthony Quinn, another '52 Award winner, struggles with nature to create an oil empire.

Portraying a gorgeous, temperamental woman who keeps Cooper worried, Barbara Stanwyck gets some tough competition from lovely Ruth Roman, who is very much in love with the gangling oilman.

The background music and title song for "Blowing Wild" was composed by Dimitri Tiomkin, Oscar winner for his music in "High Noon". Frankie Laine is the vocalist for this new film.

One of the largest interior sets ever built was required for "Blowing Wild", which was filmed entirely in Mexico.

This combination of Academy Award winners and record breakers has developed into a spectacular movie, so remember to see it between Saturday and Tuesday, October 24-27 at the Virginia.

"East of Sumatra", starring Jeff Chandler and filmed in Technicolor by Universal-International, is opening at the State Sunday, October 25th and will run through Tuesday, October 27th. With co-stars Marilyn Maxwell, Anthony Quinn, and Suzan Ball, this is a movie of forbidden love and jungle jeopardy.

Rough and reckless Chandler runs into trouble when he is double-crossed by his home-office about trade goods which were promised the Tuganese laborers. Having hired the natives to help him begin tin-mining operations, Chandler faces terror in the person of Tribal Chief Quinn.

Suzan Ball has the role of a princess who is romantically involved with the rugged Chandler. Marilyn Maxwell steps in, too, as his old flame.

Taming the jungle seems to be cut out for Chandler, while Anthony Quinn does a marvellous job as the movie's chief menace. Also a feature is Suzan Ball's native dance, which proves quite interesting to Chandler and his iron men.

Clash, conflict, and tropical splendor characterize this Technicolor motion picture, which will be at the State for four days.

HIGH C IN THE TREE

A budding young soprano, making her first appearance in a concert, apologized for having a cold. She sang: "I will hang my harp on a high willow tree-ee-eee; I will hang up harp on a high willow tree-ee-eee," each time breaking the high note. Suddenly a voice came from the balcony: "Try hanging it on a lilac bush!"

The Butler Did It - - -

by B. J. Butler

The general consensus of opinion seems to be that "I'm more pressed for time than you are." As far as talking goes most people could quit classes right now and have enough work to last for several years running.

I know that you have been confronted with at least one of these situations. You walk into your room and there is your roommate lying on the bed reading a love comic. She looks up and all she says is, "I'm so pressed for time—just too much work to do" and then she returns to her great intellectual endeavor. Another time you hear a big gab fest going on so you investigate and needless to say you find about 10 girls sitting around listing things they have to do which they of course are not doing. If you can yell louder and list longer everyone will think that you might just be pressed—but I doubt it. In this type of competition one must have an active imagination in order to think of bigger and better "pressers"—never let it be said that you couldn't think of a few extras to go along with the things you actually have to do. I have found the competition very keen and it is harder to get sympathy today than it has ever been before. Right now I am going to go to Doc's, sit silently, think of the things I have to do and feel ever so sorry for myself.

George Santayana, great American philosopher said "Nothing is inherently or unconsciously yours except spirit."

June's Jargon..

Hats off to Betty Smith who edited The Breeze last week! You done good, gal!

Nora and I enjoyed our trip very much. We hope that the ideas we got will improve the paper. The three days of the convention were composed of meetings dedicated to the different parts of a newspaper. On the whole, the speakers were very good, but the one that was the most outstanding was Mr. Eddy Gilmore who was the after dinner speaker at the banquet on Friday night. Mr. Gilmore was head of Associated Press in Moscow, Russia, for the past twelve years. He spoke on Russia—her social, economic, and political problems. One point he discussed was how the Russian people took the death of Stalin. Everyone went to view his body—not out of sympathy of a dead leader, but to determine whether he was dead.

Hope everyone enjoyed the hike to Massanutten Peak last Saturday! It certainly is a sight you will never forget!

Congratulations to all those juniors and seniors who are candidates for Kappa Delta Pi membership. It is a great honor and you all should be most proud!

This Saturday brings final rushing! Here's luck to the six sororities on campus! I'm sure everyone will be happy with the outcome! One word of advice—be careful—don't get hit by a car when everyone gathers in the street when it's over!

See ya at El Medico's!

Turntable Tips

Numerical ratings, from 1 to 10, appear in parentheses after each record:

Buddy Morrow; "Re-Enlistment Blues" (8) and "Quarter to Twelve" (7); Victor: The first side, written by novelist James Jones (it appears in his book, "From Here to Eternity") is a bluesy, low-down tune that gets a convincing interpretation by vocalist Frank Lester. The reverse features a pretty fair Morrow trombone solo and a weird ending that will make some listeners do a double-take. If you like the blues, you'll be right at home with this.

Eartha Kitt; "I Want to Be Evil" (9) and "Annie Doesn't Live Here Anymore" (7); Victor: After two previous successes with "Uska Dara" (Turkish) and "C'est Si Bon" (French), Miss Kitt returns to her native English for what could well be a third. "Evil" features sparkling, infectious lyrics plus fine backing by Henri Rene's orchestra. "Annie" is made especially interesting by Eartha's delicacy of tone.

Lester Young; "September In the Rain" (8) and "Pete's Cafe" (8); Clef: Lester "Pres" Young blows some pretty tenor sax on the first side, in that slurred and subtle style of his. John Lewis, on piano, works in some pretty passages of his own, too. Gene Ramey on bass and Jo Jones on drums round out the quartet. "Pete's Cafe" is a Young original featuring more of Lester's quaint, peircing sounds.

Voices of Walter Schumann; "All Alone" (7); "I See the Moon" (7); Victor: The Schumann singers toss off a pair of so-so tunes in that full, lush manner of theirs. "Alone", an Irving Berlin penning, spots the lead voice of Marie Vernon—a very melodious gal.

Stan Freberg; "St. George and the Dragon" (7) and "Little Blue Riding Hood" (7); Capitol: Two versions of the famous TV thriller in which Freberg, a first rate mimic, employs some very good comic technique. While the sides are pleasant for one or two listens, after that they begin to get tiresome.

Caps On For Seniors

Seniors, the long awaited day is soon to come about. The class of '54 will receive their caps on Wednesday, October 28, at 8 P. M., in Wilson Auditorium.

For the benefit of the freshmen, the capping exercise means that the seniors will really feel like seniors. Each senior asks the sophomore of her choice to do her the honor of putting on her mortarboard for her at the ceremony. This presents a very impressive sight to see the seniors in black and the sophomores in white, sitting one behind the other. Dean Gifford will speak at the ceremony and everyone is invited to attend the event.

The senior class night will be November 4, at 8 P. M. in Wilson Auditorium so everyone make it a date to attend.

Your Question Box

Below are some questions and answers that students have asked. This week they are answered by Dean Wilkins. If anyone has a question that they want answered, please give it to Johnnie Lou Thompson.

1. In what ways can participation in Student Government Committees help us in teaching school, or in marriage? Participation in Student Government Association work in general helps, it seems to me, in the following ways:

1. It teaches democratic procedures necessary to successful teaching and to a successful marriage.
2. It teaches one to voice one's opinions and at the same time to listen to and respect the opinions of others.

3. It teaches the rules of group living which apply in both teaching and marriage.

2. Do you believe that the honor system can be successful in an average high school?

Yes, I believe that an honor system can be successful in an average high school if such conditions as the following are met:

1. A long period—at least a year—of preparation should precede the initiation of the plan.

2. The Faculty and Students should work together in the planning.

3. A careful indoctrination should be carried through for each incoming class and a "refresher" meeting for all old students should be held each September.

4. The honor system must be treated seriously and respectfully by students and faculty.

3. Why isn't the library ever open on Sunday?

The Library used to be open on Sunday but Sunday hours were discontinued because of the small number of students using the library. Sunday hours have not been tried for two or more years; however, I am told that the library staff is willing to reconsider at any time the matter of Sunday hours, provided that there is assurance that a number of students would be using the library.

Miss Celeste Ulrich Captures The Vacancy

Miss Celeste Ulrich was appointed last spring to the state chairmanship of the National Section on Girl's and Women's Sports to fill the vacancy left by Miss Droeste of Mary Baldwin College. This organization is under the auspices of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The National Section controls and guides the interest of girls and women in the United States. It's job is to formulate sound principles for girls and women's athletics through publications and the approval and checking of the official rule books.

The group is formed of a national chairman, state chairman, and one person in charge of each sport working under the state chairman.

Miss Ulrich, as state chairman is responsible for the use of proper sports activities in the state. As state chairman she is also a member of the girls advisory board which fills the same need for the high school girls. The group also works closely with the rating boards.

Every woman in physical education is automatically a member of the National Section on Girls and Women's Sport and she herself determines whether or not she is an active member though it is desirable for her to be as active as possible.

Mary Strough Teaches Home Nursing Course

Mrs. Mary P. Strough, of 1443 Hillside Avenue, Harrisonburg, is now teaching a home nursing course, The Health of the Family, here at Madison. The course was previously taught by Mrs. Edith Shilling, also of Harrisonburg.

Mrs. Strough graduated from the Stuart Circle School of Nursing and there obtained a B.S. degree. She majored in Public Health at the William and Mary division in Richmond. Mrs. Strough was a public health nurse for ten years in Rockingham County.

Our hockey team really went to town last week in the second half of the game with Petersburg. Could it be because Miss Hartman promised them a milk shake for every goal they scored? She brought out nicely mimeographed I. O. U.'s at practice the other day. You're really using the right psychology Miss Hartman.

Hey, there! Have you signed up for water sports yet?

The time for the Life Saving and Water Safety Instructor's course has been set for 9:00 to 10:00 p.m. Please take not of the time if you are enrolled in this class.

Speaking of swimming...there's a mighty good display of swimming techniques on the bulletin board in Reed. If you want some pointers, look it over.

The Shenandoah hockey team, of which most of our physical education staff are members, has been victorious in all of its games so far. In the game last Sunday with the Petersburg Club, Miss Ulrich received a blow on the mouth while she was playing goalie. This seemed to give her team an added incentive to keep the ball away from her for Miss Dickens, and then Miss Hartman, speedily scored goals. When once the center forward of the Petersburg team broke into a clear field and started for Miss Ulrich and the goal, Dot Harris, one of the alumnae yelled, Don't worry, Miss Ulrich, I'll save you." Also in connection with the bruised lip of Miss Ulrich, I heard that a freshman asked if she was growing a mustache. "No," came the answer, "I just forgot to shave."!!

That picnic the freshman physical education majors had Wednesday was a huge success. Each person was to bring something to eat without letting the others know what it was to be. There sure were enough potato chips to go around but plenty of other good things too. Yum! Yum!

This week in intramural hockey games Sheldon won over Jackson, Spotswood over Junior, Senior-Ashby tied Johnston Lincoln-Sprinkle-Carter-Messick forfeited to Junior and Johnston, and Senior-Ashby forfeited to Sheldon.

Madison plays Sweetbriar in extramural hockey Saturday. Come on out and see the game.

The Camp Leadership class is going to take an overnight hike this coming Wednesday night. I hope that the weather is with you. Remember to take plenty of blankets... after all summer is with us no more. It sounds like a great idea and loads of fun.

Mercury Club meeting should be very interesting this Tuesday night. There will be a panel discussion on 'The Possibilities of Summer Jobs' led by Betty Smith. Panel members include: "Skippy" Worley, Jane Wine, Betty Myers, Norma Proctor, and Eleanor Laing. Come and get the low down on your chances for a wide variety of experiences in summer jobs.

Hockey Team Reigns Victorious At Game

Last Saturday, the extramural hockey team defeated the Petersburg club in the first of two games played on the Bridgewater College field. The majority of play during the first half was on the Madison side of the fifty yard line though neither team was able to score. The play was rapid and the ball rested within Madison's goal cage once but did not count since it was shot from outside the striking circle.

In the second half the Petersburg defense could not hold the Madison attackers. The forward line took the ball within the striking circle and shot for goal. The ball rebounded high off the goalie and Mary Lou Carroll dropped it at the feet of the goalie. Harrelson completed the play by hitting the ball within the cage for the first score of the game.

Madison's second goal came on short passes from the left side of the field and a drive by Mary Lou Carroll which found pay dirt. Near the end of the second half Corgin, the Petersburg center forward escaped the Madison backs and took a drive which narrowly missed the cage and went over the end line, their closest try for goal. Final score: Madison 2, Petersburg 0.

In the second team game, Bridge-water defeated Madison, 4-0.
